

myTution Registration Consent

Version 1.0

By continuing, you agree that myTution may collect and use the information needed to create and operate your account. This includes your phone number, selected role, profile details, curriculum preferences, and communication preferences.

Permissions covered by this consent:

Read profile fields needed for account, class, payment, parent-link, and learning-progress experiences.

Write profile fields submitted during registration and future profile updates.

Send OTP, account, class, payment, and learning-progress communications.

Use consent acceptance records to determine whether related app features can read or write permitted fields.

You can contact myTution support for questions about consent, account access, or data correction.
